

iLinc Communications Center

Management console that provides LMS and scheduling functionality for all your online sessions.

Customize your site and manage all your online activities: class, meeting, or webinar schedules; post recordings; create online assessments; manage users; run reports

Whether you need to lead an online meeting, create your monthly training calendar, allow people to register for your webinars, or provide remote support, you need a way to build your sessions and then make them available to your audiences.

With the iLinc Communications Center, you get the flexibility of a robust scheduling tool, the management of a Learning Management System (LMS), and the power of a dynamic reporting engine. The Communications Center is included with every license.

LMS Capability

The backbone of the iLinc Communications Center is its LMS capability through which any administrator can create an online session or offline (asynchronous) activity to extend the reach and effectiveness of any organization's training program.

Among the features of this LMS application are the extensive assessment tools (tests and surveys) through which you can assess and grade the knowledge of your students.

Extensive Reporting

The success of any online learning course or program can easily be found by running any of the reports that are available from the Communications Center. These reports provide both summary and detailed information to track users, activities, class and test scores, and a whole lot more. Additionally offline activity is tracked for recordings, tests, surveys, or other materials.

Full Customization

The Communications Center can be completely customized to meet the needs of your organization: site branding; organizational divisions; custom permissions; session email templates for invitations, reminders and follow ups; user fields to gather additional user demographics; and more.

iLinc puts centralized session management capabilities of a LMS at your fingertips:

Online Class Management

The Communications Center is an easy-to-use management console: set up classes, leverage administrative controls to customize online sessions, manage your online catalog of courses and more.

Reporting

Track usage and progress of your users within online sessions or asynchronous activities. All iLinc reports can be viewed in HTML, CSV, or Excel formats to enable additional analysis of usage data.

User & Student Management

Organize your users or students by building out your organizational structure. Groups can be used to arrange people together (for example a New Hire Group) for faster enrollment in classes that are required for all members.

Asynchronous Training

Post and track usage for recordings, documents, or tests. Asynchronous activities can be scheduled to control access to specific information or unlimited to allow on-demand access.

Session Registration

Establish registration policies for your classes that are automatically enforced: manage registration approvals, close registration, limit the number of registrants and more.

iLinc Application

The same application can be used for any type of online session. Users only need to learn one interface and they can then lead or participate in any session

Assessments and Evaluations

Build graded tests for students that can be used to analyze training effectiveness. Set up evaluations to gauge opinions of your audience. Build polling questions that can be used during an online session.

Content Library

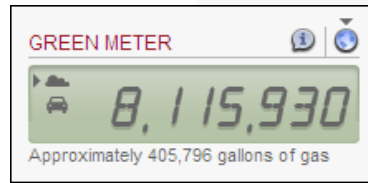

Store the master copy of your content in the library and then, anytime there is an update, update the master and all sessions that use the library item will launch the updated item for any future uses.

Site-Wide Communication

With the Communications Center, you can post announcements to your site, distribute related web links to other online materials or send emails to users of your site.

CO2 Savings

Track your CO2 savings with the iLinc Green Meter which can be accessed from the iLinc Communications Center.

Online Catalog

Build and manage your online catalog of available classes or sessions. Any user can then review the list and select those they want or need to attend.
